Certified Australasian Defence Project Management

Overview

This training program is designed to elevate participants with a Defence background with an upskill in project management expertise that will deliver a comprehensive review of CAPM certification. During the program corporate social responsibility, business ethics, and globalisation's impact on project management, strategic planning, financial management, and organisational dynamics will be explored at great depths. From implementing strategy and managing project finance to recruitment, leadership, and conflict management, this course equips you with essential tools for success in Defence project management.

What You Will Learn

CAPM Review and Ethical Considerations

- Overview of CAPM Certification
- Corporate Social Responsibility in Defence
- Business Ethics in Defence
- Globalisation Impact on Defence Project Management
- Local vs Offshore Defence Projects
- Change Management in Defence
- Cause and Effect in Defence Projects
- Strategy and Continuous Improvement in Defence

Strategic Planning and Financial Management

- Managing Project Finance
- Financial Reporting and Controls in Defence Projects
- Cost Estimates and Earned Value
- Capital Budgeting in Defence Projects
- Implementing Strategy in Defence Projects
- Continuous Improvement in Defence Projects
- Strategic Analysis Tools in Defence

Organisational Dynamics and Human Resource Management

- Organisational Theory in Defence Projects
- Organisational Design and Structure
- Organisations, Culture, and Diversity in Defence
- Business Case Development in Defence
- HR Management in Defence vs Military Instruction
- Recruitment and Leadership in Defence
- Conflict Management in Defence Projects

Course Outcome

This course equips participants with essential skills in financial, strategic planning, organisational dynamics, and human resource management, leading to the prestigious Certified Project Manager qualification.

Disclaimer

This training course is designed to meet the stringent and rigorous standards of the Defence Sector; however, an equivalent version exists to meet the needs of Government, Public and Private Sectors. While diligent efforts have been made to ensure the relevance and efficacy of the content for Defence purposes, interested participants from other sectors are advised that suitable material is available for their specific requirements, and that any discrepancies in this training promotional material regarding the applicability to non-Defence sectors are hereby acknowledged, and interested individuals, or parties are encouraged to seek clarification or supplementary information as necessary. The course provider hereby absolves itself of liability for any inaccuracies or omissions arising from differences in sector-specific regulations, policies, or practices. By enrolling, participants unequivocally affirm their understanding and acceptance to this disclaimer, thereby acknowledging their responsibility to evaluate the course's suitability for their individual sector requirements.